Bachelor’s degree

The Bachelor of Arts degree is designed for students seeking employment at the intersection of music, the media, culture and business, which explains the strong emphasis on practical training in the area of music and media. At the same time the degree programme can also be seen as a first step towards an academic career leading to a Ph.D. degree in popular music and media research. On the other hand it can be seen as a qualification for senior positions in the cultural and media sector or the music industry. Again, students have access to a large portfolio of electives from the fields of business administration, media economics and general studies.

Entry requirements: general certificate for entrance to a university (Allgemeine Hochschulreife – A Levels). In addition, an entrance examination must be undertaken. Working experience in the fields of music and/or media are highly appreciated. Furthermore, candidates are expected to take a close interest in the issues surrounding popular music and media. For detailed information concerning the entrance examination please visit our official website.

Master’s degree

The study course gives increased prominence to academic research and work in seminars. On one hand it can be seen as a further step towards an academic career leading to a Ph.D. degree in popular music and media research. On the other hand it can be seen as a qualification for senior positions in the cultural and media sector or the music industry. Again, students have access to a large portfolio of electives from the fields of business administration, media economics and general studies. Applications from students of related subject areas are more than welcome!

Entry requirements: A bachelor’s degree in popular music and media or a similar study course. Candidates with qualifications in related fields have to document their artistic, academic and work-related involvement with popular music and media. Students of other study courses may have to fulfill additional study and exam achievements as additional entry requirements. The departmental examination board specifies if necessary additional qualifications, which have to be caught up during the master programme. For further information please visit our official website.

Further information

For more information about the application please visit www.popstudium.de

See: Informationen Populäre Musik und Medien -> Bewerbung und Zulassung

Further information on our facebook page: https://www.facebook.com/PopulaereMusikUndMedienPaderborn

See also the website of the music department www.upb.de/musik for information concerning the teacher training studies.

Information about the International Office of Paderborn University: https://www.uni-paderborn.de/studium/international-office/

Contact

Administration of the music department
Warburger Straße 101, 33098 Paderborn
Room H 8.147
Phone +49 5251 60-2971
Fax +49 5251 60-3745
musiksek@campus.uni-paderborn.de

Programme director
Prof. Dr. Christoph Jacke

Student guidance advisers (Zentrale Studienberatung)
Mersinweg 3 (Ecke Pohlweg), 33098 Paderborn
Room W4.207
Phone +49 5251 60-2007
Fax +49 5251 60-3532
zsb@uni-paderborn.de
www.zsb.uni-paderborn.de

Bachelor’s degree

The Bachelor of Arts degree is designed for students seeking employment at the intersection of music, the media, culture and business, which explains the strong emphasis on practical training in the area of music and media. At the same time the degree programme can also be seen as a first step towards an academic career leading to a Ph.D. degree in popular music and media research. On the other hand it can be seen as a qualification for senior positions in the cultural and media sector or the music industry. Again, students have access to a large portfolio of electives from the fields of business administration, media economics and general studies. Applications from students of related subject areas are more than welcome!

Entry requirements: general certificate for entrance to a university (Allgemeine Hochschulreife – A Levels). In addition, an entrance examination must be undertaken. Working experience in the fields of music and/or media are highly appreciated. Furthermore, candidates are expected to take a close interest in the issues surrounding popular music and media. For detailed information concerning the entrance examination please visit our official website.

Master’s degree

The study course gives increased prominence to academic research and work in seminars. On one hand it can be seen as a further step towards an academic career leading to a Ph.D. degree in popular music and media research. On the other hand it can be seen as a qualification for senior positions in the cultural and media sector or the music industry. Again, students have access to a large portfolio of electives from the fields of business administration, media economics and general studies. Applications from students of related subject areas are more than welcome!

Entry requirements: A bachelor’s degree in popular music and media or a similar study course. Candidates with qualifications in related fields have to document their artistic, academic and work-related involvement with popular music and media. Students of other study courses may have to fulfill additional study and exam achievements as additional entry requirements. The departmental examination board specifies if necessary additional qualifications, which have to be caught up during the master programme. For further information please visit our official website.

Further information

For more information about the application please visit www.popstudium.de

See: Informationen Populäre Musik und Medien -> Bewerbung und Zulassung

Further information on our facebook page: https://www.facebook.com/PopulaereMusikUndMedienPaderborn

See also the website of the music department www.upb.de/musik for information concerning the teacher training studies.

Information about the International Office of Paderborn University: https://www.uni-paderborn.de/studium/international-office/

Contact

Administration of the music department
Warburger Straße 101, 33098 Paderborn
Room H 8.147
Phone +49 5251 60-2971
Fax +49 5251 60-3745
musiksek@campus.uni-paderborn.de

Programme director
Prof. Dr. Christoph Jacke

Student guidance advisers (Zentrale Studienberatung)
Mersinweg 3 (Ecke Pohlweg), 33098 Paderborn
Room W4.207
Phone +49 5251 60-2007
Fax +49 5251 60-3532
zsb@uni-paderborn.de
www.zsb.uni-paderborn.de

Bachelor’s degree

The Bachelor of Arts degree is designed for students seeking employment at the intersection of music, the media, culture and business, which explains the strong emphasis on practical training in the area of music and media. At the same time the degree programme can also be seen as a first step towards an academic career leading to a Ph.D. degree in popular music and media research. On the other hand it can be seen as a qualification for senior positions in the cultural and media sector or the music industry. Again, students have access to a large portfolio of electives from the fields of business administration, media economics and general studies. Applications from students of related subject areas are more than welcome!

Entry requirements: general certificate for entrance to a university (Allgemeine Hochschulreife – A Levels). In addition, an entrance examination must be undertaken. Working experience in the fields of music and/or media are highly appreciated. Furthermore, candidates are expected to take a close interest in the issues surrounding popular music and media. For detailed information concerning the entrance examination please visit our official website.

Master’s degree

The study course gives increased prominence to academic research and work in seminars. On one hand it can be seen as a further step towards an academic career leading to a Ph.D. degree in popular music and media research. On the other hand it can be seen as a qualification for senior positions in the cultural and media sector or the music industry. Again, students have access to a large portfolio of electives from the fields of business administration, media economics and general studies. Applications from students of related subject areas are more than welcome!

Entry requirements: A bachelor’s degree in popular music and media or a similar study course. Candidates with qualifications in related fields have to document their artistic, academic and work-related involvement with popular music and media. Students of other study courses may have to fulfill additional study and exam achievements as additional entry requirements. The departmental examination board specifies if necessary additional qualifications, which have to be caught up during the master programme. For further information please visit our official website.
Popular Culture and Media

Popular Culture is media culture. The history of popular music was profoundly influenced by technological developments over the past one hundred years. The invention and continued development of music and studio equipment, records, mass media, computer and internet technology were and still are very important when it comes to producing, distributing, using and reprocessing of popular music. Furthermore, the people engaging in popular music – whether it be producers, marketers, journalists, global superstars or local heroes – are major players in our media society. This is why we can learn so much about today’s mediatized world by examining popular music and its fields.

The transdisciplinary approach

The study course “Popular Music and Media” is designed in an inter- and transdisciplinary manner. While it belongs to the music division of the Paderborn University, many other departments are also involved in this programme including:

- the Institute of Media Studies
- the Musicology Seminar of the Detmold University of Music and Paderborn University
- the Institute of Language Studies
- the Centre for Language Studies
- the Centre for Information and Media Technology
- the Faculty of Business Administration and Economics
- the Musicology Seminar of the Detmold University of Music and Paderborn University
- the Institute of Media Studies
- the Centre for Information and Media Technology
- the Center for Language Studies

Theory and Practice

Acquisition of academic competencies and gathering of practical media experiences are the main aspects of this course of study. In addition to academic and practical training in the fields of popular music, media and culture, students will develop an understanding of the basic concepts of:

- • Music management, event management & cultural management
- • Music production
- • Media work (TV, internet, radio, print)
- • Artist and performance coaching
- • etc.

In addition, students develop their research competence and broaden their general communication skills including Academic and Business English. The acquired knowledge will be put into practice in a variety of projects under the guidance of our teaching staff. These projects will provide students with many important skills like responsibility, teamwork and managerial skills as well as rhetorical and organizational abilities. Students obtain useful insight into the inner workings of the modern media industry, the festival business, at the university’s campus radio station, the state-of-the-art recording studio and the long term cooperation with the „WOR Rockpalast“ and the cultural office of Paderborn. Overall there is a strong emphasis on the academic aspects of the training programme. This also includes the student’s participation in research projects and excursions (among others to London, Madeira, New York, Vienna).

Programme and Career

Since its foundation in 2002 the study course “Popular Music and Media” has found widespread approval by the music and media industry. Not without good reason do renowned experts from the fields of music management, music journalism and music law teach in this study course.

Since the winter term 2014/15 prominent figures of the pop, entertainment and media branches are invited to take up the position of the “Paderborner Popdozentur” and give seminars in the Bachelor and Master programme. The start was made by Markus Kavka, one of the most well-known German music journalists.

Our guests and lecturers in recent years included the following:

Prof. Dr. Philip Auslander, Dr. Roger Behrens, Stephan Benn, Prof. Dr. Susanne Binas-Preisendörfer, PD Dr. Jochen Bonz, Dr. Giacomo Bottà, Dr. Thomas Burkhalter, Prof. Diedrich Diederichsen, Prof. Dr. Frédéric Döhl, Sonja Eismann, Jason Forrest, Prof. Dr. Simon Frith, Dr. Charis Goer, Prof. Dieter Gorny, Britta Helm, Prof. Dr. Johannes Ismaiel-Wendt, Dr. Michael L. Jones, Massuda Kassem, Olaf Kamik, Prof. Dr. Gabriele Klein, Manfred Lappé, Lutz R. Mastmeyer, Prof. Dr. Julio Mendivil, Thomas Meinecke, Hendrik Ottema, Katharina Poblotzki, Sandra Passaro, Hugo Race, Michael Rother, Mathias Schaffhausen, Prof. Dr. Norbert Schläbitz, Oliver Schwabe, Frank Spilker, Dr. Geoff Stahl, Dr. Matthias Surall, Thomas Venker, Klaus Walter, Westbam, Dr. Irving Wolther, Prof. Dr. Hans-J. Wulff etc.

Why the programme is so popular with students

In spite of the high number of applications each year, small class sizes are the hallmark of this study course. Therefore, the BA and MA programme’s intake is limited, with each programme starting in the winter semester only. Students may also apply for the master’s programme in the summer semester. Please note that German is the language in which most lectures and seminars are conducted.

Career opportunities

- • Academic career
- • Artist & Repertoire
- • Journalism
- • Cultural- and event management
- • Cultural mediation
- • Cultural policy
- • Marketing, advertising and public relations
- • Music industry
- • Music production and sound design
- • etc.

Available study courses include:

- • Music production and sound design
- • Music industry
- • Marketing, advertising and public relations
- • Cultural policy
- • Cultural- and event management
- • Cultural mediation
- • Academic career